Neill elected president of Carmel School Dist. Board

Clayton Neill, Jr. of Toyon Way, has been named president of the Carmel School Board of Trustees.

Neill, who has been a board member since 1961, was elected at last Wednesday's board meeting after being nominated by Dr. Robert Newton, who has served as president for the past four years.

CLAYTON NEILL, JR.

Other board members who will serve in special capacities are Steven Sassoon as clerk, and Hilton Bialek as the board's representative to County School Board Association.

Superintendent Dr. Harris Taylor was named as secretary to the board. All were elected unanimously.

Commenting on the past four years, Dr. Bialek complimented outgoing president Dr. Robert Newton and noted that it had been a period of frustration and accomplishment.

ELECTION MIX-UP

New school board member Richard Wilsdon took his seat, replacing Mrs. Herbert Blanks, but only after a settlement of a strange mixup.

Curtis Pringle, who had run in the school board race and had placed fourth after Wilsdon, astounded the audience when he rose and stated that he would like his position clarified, since he had received a letter from county superintendent of schools, Ed Coffin, welcoming him as a new member of the educational community.

Pringle received a letter stating the fact of his winning, shortly after the April election. He discounted it and left shortly on a trip. Upon his return, however, he found a second letter waiting for him, and he began to wonder. Before last Wednesday's meeting, he showed the letter to Supt. Taylor who called the county board office.

It was discovered that the X, marking the winner, had been put over the wrong name... Pringle instead of Wilsdon, and the routine letters had been sent to the wrong man.

After Pringle had stated that he was not there to claim the seat, but only to clarify the situation, attorney Richard Wilsdon was seated as board member along with Dr. Hilton Bialek and Steven Sassoon who had been re-elected.

Valley Chamber discusses room tax monies; Casey offers river land for community park

An offer by Alexander Casey for community use of the former Girl Scout property, which he owns, was received with favorable interest by Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce directors at a meeting Wednesday noon at Rippling River Resort.

Lou Gardner commented that, in spite of vandalism at the old camp, the proposal was worthy of serious consideration because there is no public property now available in the Valley for picnicking.

The Chamber voted to send a letter of appreciation to Casey and to take the proposal under study. The property is across the Carmel River from the Little League park, which is also on Casey land and leased for $10 a year.

With Carmel Valley motels contributing $12,535 in room tax to the county general fund, the Valley deserves more than it is receiving, Skip Marquard, chairman of the Chamber's Room Tax Committee, declared.

Last year the CV Chamber requested added county funds for advertising and promotion, for White Oaks Theatre, for the CV Community Center and Youth Organization. It received only $750 for promotion, while the room tax for incorporated areas produced large sums, such as $100,000 in Carmel and $138,000 in Monterey.

The Chamber donated a $25 savings bond as a prize for a top student in the life saving classes at the community pool and $75 for photos and mimeographing costs for the coming Fiesta de los Amigos.

Vice Pres. Don McKenzie presided in the absence of Pres. Ken Van Hagen.

The Village Committee, which met with the Chamber, agreed to push for a walkway in front of the Bank of America, with hopes of extending it east to the Grapevine Liquor Store.

Chairman Bob Kvenild of the Village Committee stressed the need for community support and cooperation of property owners for walkways in the Village.

The group also voted $150 to extend weather news on KIDD and to finance some weather equipment for the Fire Dept., which is now reporting weather to radio and TV stations.

Pat Swan was asked to continue on store decorations for the Fiesta de los Amigos.

CARMELO 4-H CLUB members spent Saturday morning at Bob Wilson's Rancho Chupinos learning how to handle and groom their sheep in preparation for the Monterey County Fair in August.

Openings available in 2nd swim session

Ken White, manager of the Carmel Valley Community swimming pool, has announced that there are still some openings in the lessons for preschool youngsters in July 31-Aug. 11 session and in the Aug. 14-25 session.

These are for youngsters who have not yet reached first grade.

The instructors would prefer to fill the spaces with little ones who have not yet taken the course, but if the vacancies are not all taken, they will allow parents to enroll children for a second time.

The second group of regular swimming lessons will begin on Aug. 7 and run until Aug. 25. There are openings in all classes for this session. Anyone interested in signing up may call the CUSD recreation office at 624-3342 and register.

Openings are available in beginning swimming at 9, 9:40, 10:20, and 11 a.m.

Intermediate and advanced instruction has openings at the same times.

Diving classes are held at 9, 9:40 and 10:20 and junior and senior lifesaving is taught at 11 a.m.

Good crowds have been on hand for the afternoon recreational swims, according to White. Family tickets are still available at ten dollars which allow all members admittance to the pool as often as desired, the only charge being the 15¢ surtax which goes toward payment on the swimming pool.

Adults' swimming will begin on Thursday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

A special pull-out resort section is included in this issue.

SPIRIT OF THE Carmel Bach Festival which begins Friday is seen in this composite photograph by Forrest T. Cornwall.

CUSD budget sets $2.71 tax rate

A tax rate of $2.71 per $100 assessed valuation, using only 27¢ of the 37¢ override monies will be the basis for the budget of the Carmel Unified School District for the coming year, 1967-68.

Superintendent Harris Taylor recommended the rate on the basis of providing the quality of education necessary for the district but at the same time having concern for the local taxpayer.

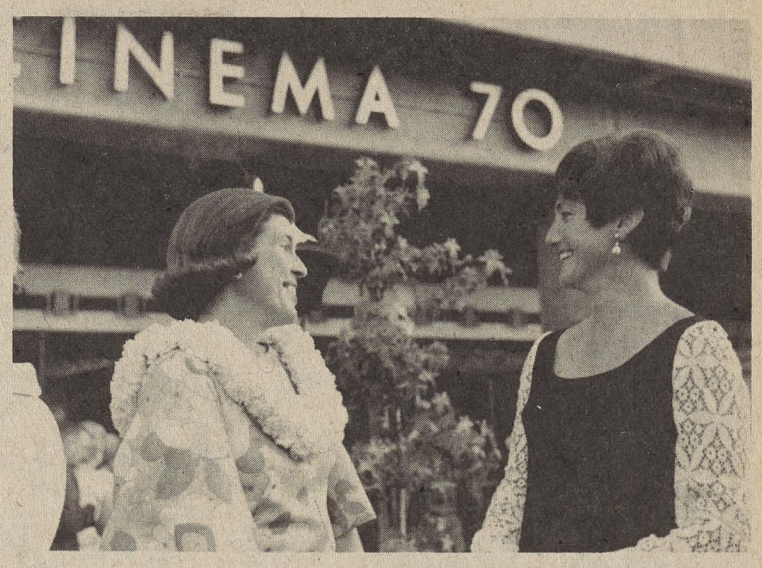
The proposed budget of $2,914,692 will include an undistributed reserve of $53,353, general reserve of $80,000 and a revolving amount of $400, leaving the actual monetary expenditures at $2,780,939. A year ago the budget was set at $2,345,718.

Formal adoption of the budget has been scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 2.

Kiwanians hear about new Salinas spice plant

Ten tons of pepper are ground each day in the new Schilling Co. plant in Salinas, Gordon Harlander, plant manager who lives on Rancho Rd., Carmel Valley, told the CV Kiwanis Club Tuesday in a talk about the spice firm.

Ray Hanley, who has recently launched an ad agency serving the area, was inducted into the club by Lou Gardner. Tom Hefling received a pin for six years' perfect attendance and Andy Fitzgerald for a year's perfect attendance.



GALA CHAMPAGNE party at the new Del Monte Shopping Center's "Cinema 70" opened the magnificent theatre Thursday night with the epic film, "Hawaii." Mrs. Raymond Simmons, left, chairman of the Junior League-sponsored event, talks with Mrs. Blair McDonald of Carmel Valley, former Junior League president in front of Cinema 70. The Junior League raised about $4,000 by the event for the youth science center and youth concerts it sponsors. The handsome new theatre takes its name, "Cinema 70," from the unusual 70 mm. films which its ultra-modern equipment uses, to give unusual depth and quality. The crowd of 750 enjoyed Cinema 70, the largest and most modern theatre between Los Angeles and San Jose, which features luxurious seats with generous spacing.

Valley Lions install new members

Two new members were installed in the Carmel Valley Lions Club last week—Tom Bottaro and John Warren Douglas. The club now has a roster of 48 members. Tony August, International Counsellor, from the Carmel Lions was guest speaker for the evening and after inducting the two new members he presented 14 Valley Lions members with perfect attendance pins.

Valleyite Clyde Hitchcock has been appointed Deputy District Governor of Region 4, an area covering 13 Lions Clubs from Santa Cruz to the Monterey Peninsula. Allan Champe of the Carmel Lions Club has been named Zone Chairman for Zone 3, which consists of these clubs—Carmel, Carmel Valley, and Pacific Grove-New Monterey.

Two Carmel Valley Lions—Art Fosso and Bob Hebert—have each accepted an exchange student, sponsored by Lions International, into their homes for a three week period in early August. The visitors are Japanese girls interested in learning more about our culture and customs.

Beard growers must register for contest

There are a lot of men growing beards for the Fiesta de los Amigos, but very few have registered for the contest, according to Chip Collins. In order to be eligible for prizes, the beard wearers must pay a $1 registration fee at the Carmel Valley firehouse. Hours are from 8:30 to 5 p.m.

"If we don't get more response," Chip added, "we'll have to cancel the contest."

EDITORIAL

Let's get that five year accreditation back for Carmel High!

The disturbing announcement that Carmel High School has dropped to a two-year accreditation instead of its previous status as a full five-year accredited school should bring rapid positive action to pull the school up to its former position.

The Western Association of Schools and Colleges made recommendations in both 1957 and 1962 when the last accreditation study was conducted and only about half of these were carried through, according to Superintendent Dr. Harris Taylor.

The accreditation is important because graduates from a non-accredited school have much more difficulty getting into colleges and universities.

We would hope that this slap on the wrists for both the physical condition of the school and its lack of an overall philosophy of teaching would bring all administration and teaching personnel to a united front.

Dr. Taylor feels that the two-year limit means that WASC believed the situation would be upgraded within that time.

We sincerely hope that the combination of the new principal, board members, and the business manager will get Carmel High's program and its plant reassessed and strengthened quickly, so that future graduates will have the backing of a five-year accreditation again.

PERSPECTIVE

IN SHORT

PROVING THE POWER of positive thinking, Vera Stokes told friends that she had her name on the Margaret Ziegler portrait that was a prize at the Driveway Art Festival on Sunday. She had decided that she would have to win it.

You guessed it... on Monday, Margaret called up and told Vera that hers was the winning ticket. Vera thinks the good luck necklace she bought at the Festival had something to do with it too!

A SPECIAL WARNING is given by Fire Chief Chip Collins this week. The fire hazard in the Valley is extremely high and a serious fire could occur at the drop of a match.

Chip asked parents to warn their children to be particularly careful, citing the example of the Toyon Way grass fire last week which was started by a little boy smoking.

Chip also reminds all Valley residents that burning only in an incinerator is permitted between 7 a.m. and 12 noon and the area around the incinerator should be wet down and the fire attended until it is out. This is it!... Be careful!

VALLEY CHILDREN who attend the annual Little Lyric Theatre Workshop in Big Sur are busily rehearsing for their summer production which will feature excerpts from the operetta, "The Magic Flute." Tularcitos School music director, Gene Perrine, is the guiding light and the kids travel to Big Sur for the day-long workshop twice a week. The show, which Valleyites look forward to eagerly, will be presented at the Big Sur Grange Hall on Friday night, Aug. 11, and Sunday afternoon, Aug. 13.

JOHN AND EMILY DeARMAN, who operated a food center in Carmel for several years, will be starting a new venture in Carmel Valley when they open "The Valley Kitchen" on July 24. The new restaurant will be located below Swan's in the former Village Cafe.

The DeArmans will be assisted by members of their family and all are looking forward to making their home in the Valley.

JEANETTE HOGAN has entered her Bay mare, "Kiwi," in the National Horse Show at the Monterey County Fair Aug. 9-13. Kiwi will compete in three different events with Martha Hogan as rider.

BOB ROSENBLUM and Howard Schuman, co-authors of "Eden Skidoo," which will have its world premiere Aug. 5 at White Oaks Theatre, have arrived in the Valley from their homes in New York. During the next three weeks they will be working with Gale Peterson, director, preparing the play for the August opening.

WERE YOU in the market for an exotic king snake? Too bad because the Valley's newest business just depleted its stock in that department last week with the sale of one (its only) black and white reptile! However, if you are looking for a kitten, a brown rabbit, or a fat, mostly labrador puppy, then "Fur and Feathers" should head tomorrow's shopping list. The summertime venture was undertaken by two enterprising 13-year-olds, Mary Cummings and Miriam Deck. In addition to the aforementioned critters, a shipment of mice and birds is expected next week. The shop is located on Del Fino Place upstairs above the Plaza Linda Restaurant.

THE CARMEL VALLEY Library had a distinguished visitor last week when Sidney H. Nash, business manager of the Queensboro Libraries in New York, spent a 'busman's holiday' with Valley librarian, Miss Marjorie Ibsen. Mr. and Mrs. Nash, whose home is in Jamaica, N.Y., were vacationing in the Valley following a library convention in San Francisco.

The Rhyming Philosopher

What manner of people are these who insist
On scattering garbage like demons possessed.
Such actions can never be lightly dismissed,
Since animals never will foul up their nest.

There's beer cans discarded alongside the road,
Old bottles endanger each barefooted child.
Waste paper, gum wrappers, cigar butts explode
With each gust of wind, and the country's defiled.

Our streams are polluted, the beaches destroyed;
The fish have deserted our shores, sad to say.
Our mountains of redwood will soon be devoid,
While birds in the forest have all had their day.

With Man the Despoiler, what hope have we left
For Nature's survival. The air that we breathe
Is poisoned by gas, so we'll soon stand bereft
Of places to go if desiring to leave.

Before we abandon this world for the Moon,
Give heed to this warning: First clean up the mess
Of garbage and offal the vandals have strewn —
And possibly answer our own S.O.S.

THE Cookery Corner

RUTH PRYER, newly elected vice president of the Carmel Valley Women's Club, also numbers among her activities the job of recruiting artists and craftsmen and arranging display space to exhibit their work at Carmel Valley's Fiesta de los Amigos.

But she still finds time to bake bread for her family: Sandra, 3, and Nancy, 8, and husband Rex. She passes on her easy method to us... also a recipe for stroganoff which Rex says is best made with the venison he brings home to fill the freezer. And one for the delectable bite-sized tarts the Pryers like to serve at buffet parties.

STEAK STROGANOFF

1 lb. round steak (venison preferred), cut in strips or 3/4" pieces
2 T. fat
1/2 C. chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 6 oz. can mushrooms, or equivalent fresh mushrooms
1 cup sour cream
1 can tomato soup
1 T. Worcestershire sauce
6-8 drops Tabasco
1/2 teas. salt
1/8 teas. pepper

Dip meat in flour, brown in hot fat. Add onion, garlic, mushrooms. Combine remaining ingredients, pour over meat. Simmer until tender, about 1 hour. Serve over rice or noodles (we like brown rice). Sprinkle on parmesan cheese. Serves 4-6.

COTTAGE BATTER BREAD

Measure into mixing bowl 2 3/4 cup warm water (110-115°). Add, stirring to dissolve, 2 packages active dry yeast.

Stir in:

3 T. sugar
1 T. salt
2 T. soft shortening
Half of 6 1/2 cups sifted flour

Beat 2 minutes with mixer until smooth. Mix in rest of flour with spoon. Cover, let rise in warm place (85°) until double (30 minutes approx.)

Beat batter down for 1/2 minute with spoon. Pour half into greased 9x5x3 loaf pan, half into 1 1/2 qt. casserole (or make 2 loaves). Let rise (20 to 30 minutes). Brush with melted shortening, bake until brown. Temperature – 375°. Time – 40 to 50 minutes.

PECAN MINI-TARTS

Ruth's "mini-tarts" keep well in the freezer ready filled or just the shells to have on hand to fill with fruit, custard, jams, etc. She recommends the crust as fool-proof.

Filling:
2 eggs
3/4 cup brown sugar
1 T. soft butter
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. vanilla
dash salt
2/3 cup coarsely chopped pecans

Beat together egg, sugar, butter, vanilla and salt until smooth. Divide half pecans among pastry lined cups, add egg mixture, top with remaining pecans. Bake in slow oven (325°) for 20 minutes. (Baking time may vary with size of tart.) Cool, remove from pans. This will fill about 36 mini-tarts (1 3/4 inch) or about a dozen larger ones.

PIE CRUST

2 cups flour
1 cup shortening
1 egg
1 T. vinegar
3 T. water

Cut shortening into flour. Mix together water, vinegar and egg, mix slightly with fork, add to flour mixture. Stir lightly with fork and proceed as for regular pie crust. This is wonderful for tarts as it can be re-rolled without becoming tough.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

Furniture showroom in Carmel Plaza features Brazilian designs

Brazilian Interiors, the first United States showroom to feature the furniture of Sergio Rodrigues, noted Brazilian designer, opened in Carmel Plaza on Friday. Co-owners of the new shop are Rod Dewar and John Zierold.

Sergio, at 39, has been designing interiors of major public buildings in the capital city of Brazilia, Rio de Janeiro, San Paulo and cities in many other states in Brazil. His most recent commission is the interior of the new Foreign Ministry in Brazilia, a $1,500,000 undertaking for the interior alone.

In 1961, he won both first and third places in the International Furniture competition in Italy for his sculptured rosewood and leather armchair and a dining room chair. 350 architects representing 27 countries were in that competition.

The Dewars became acquainted with Sergio and his furniture when they visited Rio de Janeiro several years ago. With Jairo Costa, his partner, Sergio's firm of OCA designs and manufactures the furniture as well as interiors.

During this first visit to California, to oversee the details of the opening of Brazilian Interiors, Sergio is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zierold.

Hindu dancer to appear on Forest Theatre Sunday program

The featured performer on the great outdoor stage at Carmel's Forest Theater Sunday afternoon will be the distinguished dancer, Ishvani, whose command of ancient Hindu ritual forms has won her international acclaim.

The dance recital will begin at 2 o'clock, and admission is free. The city-owned Forest Theater is located at Mountain View and Santa Rita Sts. in Carmel.

Presented as part of the City of Carmel summer Forest Theater programming, the Ishvani recital will be followed on the succeeding Sunday afternoon (July 30) by an accomplished dance group from the Oakland Civic Ballet. The group, known as The Dancing Troubadours, is headed by Angene Feves who was a choreographer and dancer with White Oaks Theatre when she had a studio in Carmel Valley a few years ago.

Sunset Center manager, Cole Weston, also is rehearsing a large cast of child and adult actors for evening performances of the musical play, "Oliver," at the Forest Theater in late August and early September. The production is co-sponsored by the Carmel Cultural Commission and the Carmel Unified School Dist. Tickets to see "Oliver" will be modestly priced—$1.50 for adults; $1.00 for children.

Carmel Hose Team wins contest

For the first time in the history of the Carmel Fire Department Hose Cart Races, the host team won. Carmel has sponsored the event for three years and never made it.

Saturday night, there was much clowning and fun as the Carmel Valley first team ran down the street and stopped off at the Tiki Hut, and the second team, composed of wives, pulled a short ways and then hopped into cars to return with a bucket of water instead of using the hose.

The previous evening at La Playa Hotel, Robin Ann Saunders had been chosen Miss Carmel Fire Department to reign over the race. Robin and her court were presented with numerous gifts from local merchants.

After the competition, participating firemen and their wives enjoyed a barbecue and dance to wind up the Hose Cart Race until next year.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

Numerous dinner parties and barbecues were held recently at the Cachagua ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jodoin, celebrating the visit of their daughter, the former Joy Ostrander, and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harder Jr. and their five children of Edmond, near Seattle, Wash., have many friends in the area, since both Joy and Bill grew up here and graduated from Carmel High School in 1959. The brief holiday for the busy couple followed the June 5 birth of their fifth child, a daughter whom they have named Lisa Michelle. Mrs. Jodoin flew north to assist Joy with the other children and while Bill baby-sat one day they enjoyed a visit in Canada.

Joy and children, Lisa, Marie and Chris, flew south with Mrs. Jodoin while Bill followed by car with Bud and John. During their stay, Christopher celebrated his fifth birthday with a lovely dinner party, shared by his grandfather, Bill Harder Sr. of Garzas Road.

In addition to duties as a very busy mother of five, Joy graduated in December as a doctor from the University of Washington. A top student, she studied on a cancer research scholarship and returns now to complete three months' internship as a cytologist. Bill continues his studies at the U. of W. in September toward his doctorate after commercial fishing for albacore this summer with his father, and this year Bud, a third generation, joins the crew.

Valley residents commuting to Salinas frequently play "Name the Crop" as they watch a field harvested, planted, and dotted again with tiny green shoots in what seems a remarkably short time. The fields between Reservation Road and the Salinas bridge are currently ablaze with color that stumped many of the experts. The crop? Acres of gladioli in a multitude of colors. Load your camera with colored film and take the short drive; it is truly a beautiful sight.

A warm Valley welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Middleton who have purchased a home in Rancho Tierra Grande. Lynda immediately joined the hectic schedule of commuting mothers by enrolling their children, Stevie 5 and Maggie 3, in the summer swimming program. The former Carmichael residents have longed for some time to establish a home in our area and were delighted when their Arnold Palmer dry cleaning franchise was accepted in the Del Monte Shopping Center. They will also maintain a pick-up station near the Mid-Valley Safeway store to be called Tierra Grande Cleaners.

A speedy recovery to Lloyd Casarez who is recuperating from injuries received last week when his car struck a power pole west of Serra Way on the Monterey-Salinas Highway. The Valleyite's car had swerved to avoid another car, shearing off a power pole and knocking out electricity in the area for several hours. Miraculously upon arrival at the Salinas Valley Memorial Hospital where he was taken by the A-1 Ambulance Service, he was found to have only moderate injuries.

A petite pair of pink water wings was ordered the eighth of July when six pound Stacey Lynn White was born at the Community Hospital. The new arrival shares co-mascot honors of the Barracuda Swim Team with her two-year-old brother, Michael, since their father, Ken White, is the popular director of the Carmel Valley Swimming Pool. During the school year he is a coach at Monterey High School. The White family make their home at Dolores and 13th in Carmel.

Mrs. Erasimo Belleci entertained Tuesday evening at her home on Paso Hondo with a stork shower in honor of Mrs. William Parham. Coffee and dessert were served to the guests who presented Judy with a pink and blue parasol covered with dollar bills for the expected infant. Among the guests was Judy's mother, Mrs. Walter Reams. Carol, a former Valley resident, is here from her home in Juneau, Alaska, and will remain with Judy, Bill, and Kelly at their home on Lupine Lane until after the birth of their baby.

Other guests included Mmes. William Ijams, A.A. Collins, Donald Laird, John Woods, Charles Gansel, Art Harber, George Palmer, and Don Corona.

JANICE CAREY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Carey of El Caminito, is one of a number of young cowgirls who are looking forward to the big California Rodeo at Salinas. Janice has her own horse named Granite and she may be riding in the rodeo parade. The four day rodeo begins on Thursday, July 20, climaxed by championship day on Sunday, July 23. Grand entry is at 1:30 each day.

White Oaks Theatre Guild to honor co-authors of play here August 5th

An invitational champagne buffet will be presented by the White Oaks Theatre Guild to honor the co-authors of "Eden-Skidoo," which will open in its world premiere in Carmel Valley on Saturday, Aug. 5.

The authors of the play, Bob Rosenblum and Howard Schuman, will arrive from New York to attend the Guild party at the Carmel Valley Inn on Aug. 4. Theatre, television and movie personalities have been invited to the celebration.

The musical comedy, "Eden-Skidoo," is based on a Brigadoon-like theme where a youth tries to rejuvenate a sleepy 1920's town.

The buffet table will be graced with a 40-pound Carmel Valley boar from the Stuyvesant Fish Ranch, complemented by other Valley-type delicacies.

Mrs. Gilbert Craig and Mrs. George Clifford are co-chairmen of the party and Mrs. Mel Blevens is designing the posters, assisted by Mrs. Clive Rayne doing reception decorations. Mrs. Frank DeAmaral Jr. is in charge of invitations.

The play, "Eden- Skidoo," which will open at White Oaks Theatre the following evening, July 5, in world premiere, was written by the two young authors under a Broadcast Music Incorporated grant.

Schuman and Rosenblum had been friends at Brandeis University but then pursued separate film writing careers.

In 1964 they began writing review material, songs and night club acts as a team. BMI felt that they were a promising team and extended the grant to write a full-length musical.

The play was written mainly in Europe and will have its first American opening here in the Valley with the White Oaks summer company. Eden-Skidoo will play Aug. 5 and 6 and then again on Aug. 11, 12 and 13, with curtain time at 8:30.

MRS. GEORGE CLIFFORD (left) is busy taking reservations for the invitational cocktail buffet on Aug. 4, honoring the co-authors of "Eden Skidoo," which will have its world premiere at White Oaks Theatre Aug. 5. Mrs. Mel Blevens (right), designer of the premiere posters, consults with Mrs. Frank Crispo (center), president of the White Oaks Theatre Guild, sponsors of the party which will be held at Carmel Valley Inn.

'Charley's Aunt' opens at Carmel's Circle Theatre Tuesday, July 25th

"Charley's Aunt" will open at Carmel's Circle Theatre on July 25.

Roderick Sibley will play the handsome college man who sets off the spirited situation. Lt. Richard Schreibman is Charley Wykeham, who is responsible for the zany masquerade of Lord Fancourt Babberly, played by Nick Hovick.

Tony Garofoli is Brassett, the college scout, who is a reluctant accomplice in the farce. Robert Heater plays the part of Jack's father, Col. Sir Francis Chesney, Bart, just returned from a tour of duty in India. Melvin Isenberger is the pompous Stephen Spettigue.

Charley's aunt, Donna Lucia d'Alvadorez, is played by Margaret Phillips; Kate Stoney is Charley's girlfriend, Amy Spettigue; Kitty Verdun, an heiress, is played by Wendi Thaler; and Anita Whitaker is Ela Delahay, Donna Lucia's protegee.

"Charley's Aunt" is one of the four rotating plays being presented under the direction of Norman McPhee in "Repertory '67." "Room Sevice," "Hedda Gabler," and "The Subject Was Roses" complete the series.

'Room Service' at Circle is loaded with action

A seedy hotel room is the only set of "Room Service," but this newest addition to the Circle Theatre's summer repertoire, is far from being a static play. On the contrary, it is loaded with action.

People burst in and out of the room; sometimes they are carried or thrown. In fact, the rough house gets so fast, it might seem that the small circular area which serves as the "Stage" should be roped off to safeguard the audience.

"Room Service" evokes the dark but valiant days of the Great Depression. The story evolves around the efforts of a pennyless producer to find an "angel" for his play before he and his 19 actors get kicked out of the hotel they are sponging off while rehearsing.

Peter Medina as the hard-up producer; Nick Hovick as his equally threadbare director; Rod Sibley as an ex-boxer sidekick and Keith Graham, who plays a hay-seed playwright, are the chief protagonists.

We'd be hard put to imagine Mr. Graham actually sitting down and writing a hit play, but that's completely beside the point. The antics are pure farce.

As their efforts to keep the management from the door get more and more desperate, the boys are reduced to foul means to get room service to bring them food. They make the business of gobbling up their ill-gotten meal one of the funniest scenes of the evening ... no stagey nibbling for this crowd.

Other characters ... some only slightly zany, others very ... are played by Elroy Naczek, Jim Goffard, Cal Schlesinger, Lee Taplinger, Mark Taylor and Jay Criddle. Joan Swartz and Roberta Robertson lend romantic interest.

William Lewis, as the hotel doctor, who hangs his shingle in the elevator and director Norman McPhee as a timid representative of the "angel," are particularly effective in small parts. —LSN

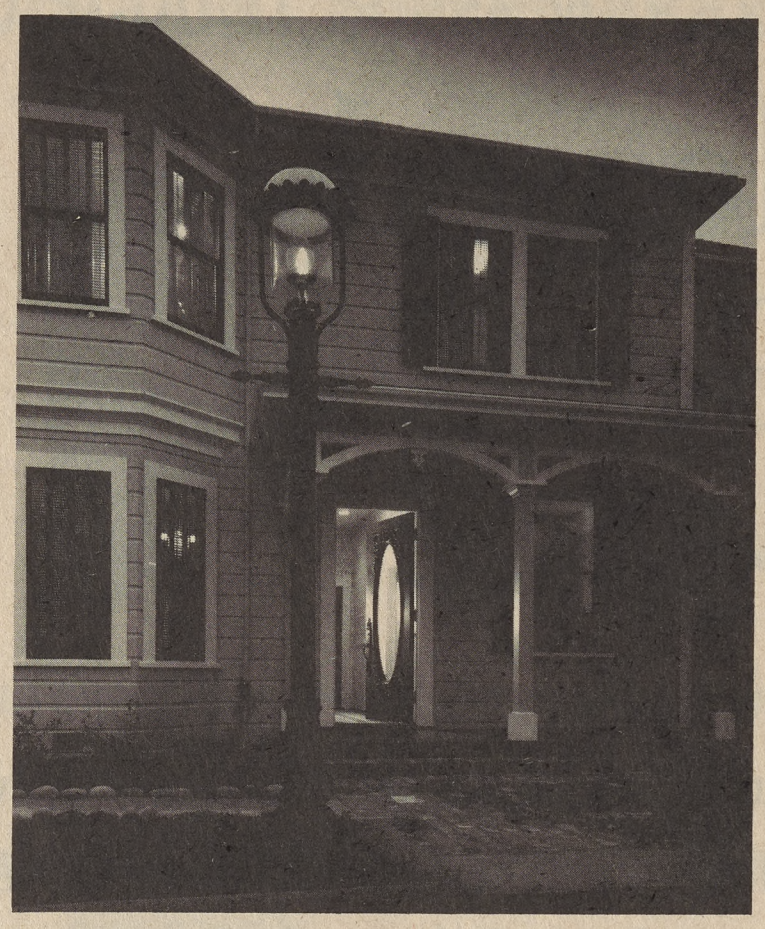
Newest Gallery features local artists

The Perry House, recently restored by Lt. Col. and Mrs. W.W. Downer of Carmel, was built in 1860. One of Monterey's oldest and most delightful Victorian homes, the old Perry House now shelters a fine art gallery.

It was built in 1860 by a Portuguese whaling captain, Manuel Perry, and his wife, Mary de Mello Silva, of Boston. The old home remained in the Perry family for over 100 years before being abandoned to the elements. Recently it has been restored handsomely by Lt. Col. and Mrs. W.W. Downer and is now an outstanding example of American architecture of the Civil War period.

In the 1850's, whales were so plentiful in Monterey Bay that whalers could fill up lying at anchor. In 1860, when Capt. Perry built this house, there were four full whaling companies operating out of Monterey. California grays, humpbacks, and some right whales were usually harpooned from small boats inside the bay. After a perilous battle, the captured whales were towed ashore near the Old Custom House, flensed and tried out. The stripped carcasses were towed out to sea but they usually floated back to shore and became an odorous attraction for gulls, dogs, cats and even wild bears. After the Sixties, petroleum gradually replaced whale oil and by 1880 most of the local shore whaling had ceased.

The upper floor of the Perry House, once used as a lookout station, now exhibits the work of five nationally-acclaimed artists as well as that of many distinguished guest artists.



Historic old Perry House has been opened as an art gallery

DONALD TEAGUE is one of America's best known watercolor painters. He was born in New York and studied at the Art Students League of New York and in London, England. After a distinguished career as an illustrator for The Saturday Evening Post, Colliers and other national magazines, he turned his special talents to watercolors, and has since won innumerable prizes – from his first National Academy prize in 1932 to his most recent American Watercolor Society prize of 1967. He has exhibited widely, and has paintings in many permanent and private collections throughout the country.

JOSEPH MORGAN HENNINGER has won many awards in illustration and fine arts. He studied at the Herron Art Institute at Indianapolis, the National Academy, New York City, and the Ecole des Beaux Artes in Paris. He worked as a portrait painter in Chicago until 1934, when he became a motion picture artist for MGM, Columbia and for Alexander Korda and David O. Selznick. For many years he has been an instructor and chairman of the department of illustrations at Art Center College in Los Angeles. He is also one of the official artists of the United States Air Force.

MARY A. LANSDOWNE is a California artist who is particularly well known for her oil paintings of floral subjects and seascapes. Her pencil drawings are also widely distributed as prints by many national societies, and her reproduced drawings are used as personal greeting cards by many members of Congress. She studied at Scripps College, California School of Fine Arts, University of Mexico, American University and the University of California. Her work has ben nationally exhibited and collected. She is listed in the Who's Who of American Women and in the Dictionary of International Biography.

JACK SWANSON is a celebrated painter of the Western scene, working in the tradition of the early Western masters, Frederic Remington and Will James. Like this famous pair before him, Jack Swanson knows his subject intimately, having worked as a cowboy. On his Carmel Valley ranch he has raised and trained quarterhorses for West Coast tracks. He rode with the great vaquero, Frank Martinez, and as a young man used ranch bunkhouses for both studios and galleries. His oil paintings now hang in all major Western art collections.

WILLIAM F. TIMMINS began his career early as an illustrator for national magazines such as Colliers and Cosmopolitan. After a number of years as a successful magazine and book illustrator, and as an outstanding national adverting artist, he began painting oils and watercolors, winning his first one-man show at the Cochrane Gallery in 1963. He is listed in the Who's Who in American Art, and is a member of the Society of Illustrators of New York. His paintings are widely exhibited and are owned by collectors throughout the United States.

The gallery, at 201 Van Buren St. at the corner of Scott, is open 11-5 every day but Sunday.

The Perry House Tea Room, owned and operated by Mrs. Mary L. Aliotti in the Perry House, is open during the same hours.

Dr. Bragman is in charge of the Community College on the island of Maui, and in addition to a convention in Phoenix, was on a teacher-recruiting tour. The junior college program began a year ago in Hawaii and has a current enrollment of between five and six hundred students.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGlochlin of E. Garzas Road entertained with a barbecue last Sunday. It was a welcome to the Valley for new residents from Carmichael, Mrs. McGlochlin's sister-in-law, Mrs. George Engstrom and two sons, Mark and John. Previous residents of this area, they will make their home on E. Garzas until their home is completed in the Lower Valley. In addition to the boys at home who will attend Middle and High school, a son, Paul, is enrolled in classes at Davis, while a daughter, Lynn, attends college at Lewis and Clark in Portland, Ore.

The day marked the departure of the McGlochlin's son, David, who had completed his 20-day leave. A Navy Medical Corpsman, the Valleyite will undergo brief training at Camp Del Mar, Calif., and is then enroute to Vietnam.

The remainder of the guest list was made up of fellow students in Mr. McGlochlin's Hammond organ class and their instructor, Lois Patrick, of Aptos. Presently teaching 16 classes with an enrollment of 110 students, Miss Patrick will be on hand to entertain the crowds attending the Salinas Rodeo with a concert of organ music each day before the grand entry.

The talented musician, who has performed in concert in Washington, D.C., the State Fair at Sacramento, and the Monterey County Fair, was recently named "teacher of the month" by the Hammond Organ Company. She played for the party on Sunday as did other members of the class.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. David Hildebrand, Mr. and Mrs. Hurst Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. George Allshouse, all of Pacific Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bush and Glen Harnish of Carmel, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis of Monterey.

Dinner guests celebrating the Fourth of July at the Aliso Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman were 'part-time' residents who are spending the summer at their home on Laurel Drive. Mrs. Clement Galante and sons, Teddy and Jack of Sea Cliff in San Francisco were joined by Mrs. Galante's mother, Mrs. Lillian Hohfeld, also of the City.

Carmel Valley Inn's pretty young manager will study at Hilton

By LYNNE NORTON

Jeremy Harrison, the youngest and the prettiest hotel keeper in Monterey County, is spending the summer as assistant to the managers of the Carmel Valley Inn. Twenty-one-year-old Jeremy graduated in June from the City College of San Francisco's Division of Hotel and Restaurant Management.

In September Jeremy will begin working at the San Francisco Hilton under the Hilton Personnel Development Training Program Award. The training will last from five to eight months. If she does well in the program and if there is a position open, Jeremy will then become an assistant personnel director.

"In the personnel department I can at least attempt to correct what I feel is wrong," said Jeremy. "I said this to the man who interviewed me and he agreed."

The Personnel Department hires people, handles labor relations, and unemployment claims. There are at least six different unions to be dealt with at Hilton.

"If the cold atmosphere of the Hiltons were eliminated, they would be the best hotels in the world because they already have the best physical qualities," continued Jeremy. "I will try to hire people who care about their job and to make them understand that even scrubbing floors or pots contributes to a hotel."

Jeremy also had an offer from the Fairmont but "couldn't figure out where I'd fit in." She likes the Fairmont because it has a warm tradition of service.

She is well prepared for her crusade at the Hilton after two years of extensive vocational training at San Francisco City College's Division of Restaurant Management. The program includes 17% general education, including such courses as English, math, and physical education; 17% business instruction; 22% hotel and restaurant classes such as Orientation to Hospitality and Civic Relations; 27% food preparation and 17% work experience.

Her 17% work experience includes work at Webb's Towne House and the San Francisco Hilton.

Jeremy finds working in her parents' resort hotel very different from a city hotel. At a resort hotel each person has to know everything that goes on. A city hotel is much more specialized.

Jeremy was the only girl in her graduating class of thirty-five. Two other girls began the program of study but soon dropped out.

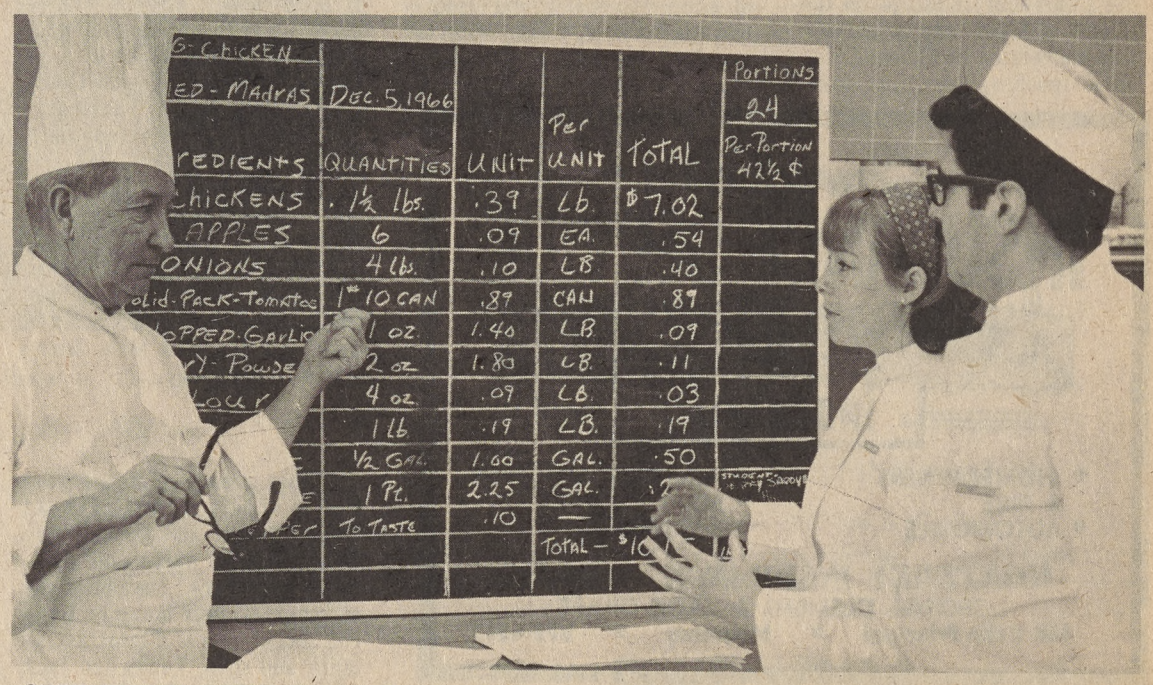
She excelled in the course. After her first year, she was awarded the Harvey M. Toy scholarship of $500. Upon graduation she was offered another $500 scholarship but she declined because she is not going on to a four-year college as some of her fellow grads are who are seeking executive positions.

Jeremy received her first taste of the hotel business in January of 1965 when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, took over the lease on the Carmel Valley Inn. They had operated a shop in Carmel after moving here from Vancouver, Canada, in 1957.

Jeremy is a graduate of Sunset School, Carmel High and MPC.

A number of factors decided Jeremy to go into the hotel field. She liked her work at the Inn and the idea of being able to prepare herself as a professional after only two years of training was appealing. She wants to travel and "there are hotels all over the world." Looking ahead to marriage, Jeremy commented that hotel hours are flexible.

Jeremy's first month in the hotel management field has been successful. She proudly reports that she has just sold her first group: twenty men from the New Holland Division of Sperry-Rand will hold a convention at the Inn.



CHEF PIERRE COSTE, Jeremy Harrison's professor at City College Division of Hotel and Restaurant Management wrote in French on this picture, "Good luck and best wishes to Jeremy, a brilliant student." At the right is fellow student Jerry Saryron who was assistant cook at Carmel Valley Inn two summers ago.

Janet Flint becomes bride of Charles Pina

Miss Janet Helen Flint became the bride of Charles Vincent Pina at the Carmel Valley Community Center July 2.

The Rev. Denton Rebok performed the 2 p.m. ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Community Center.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia E. Flint of Carmel Valley and Mr. Thaddeus James Flint of Carmel.

The new Mrs. Pina wore a lovely gown of nylon and lace which her sister, Shirley, had also worn at her wedding six years ago. Her veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Linda Drewien of Carmel Valley, as the maid of honor, wore a blue lace, A-line gown and Lorie Linares, the groom's niece, was the lovely little flower girl.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pina, formerly of Carmel Valley, now residing in Monterey.

The groom's best man was Max Drewien, also of Carmel Valley.

The bride graduated in June from Carmel High School and will attend Monterey Peninsula College this fall.

The groom is employed by the Carmel Unified School District.

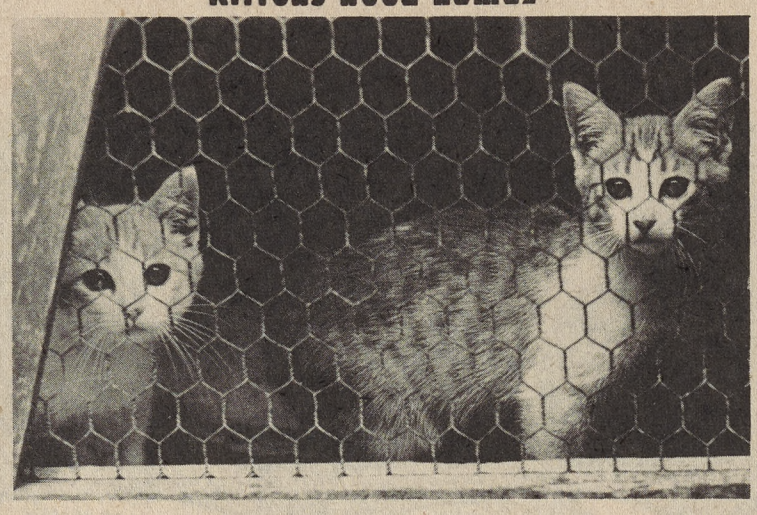
Kittens need homes



DANDELION YELLOW green-eyed tigers will put sunshiny spots into anyone's garden even on the foggiest days. They are only two of the hundreds of kittens that were brought to the SPCA Animal Shelter, at 2099 David, New Monterey, this spring. They seem to have sprung up with the weeds, unwanted.

So if you are in the mood for a kitten... it's a taker's market with every color or combination of colors to choose from. And remember, two kittens or cats are always more fun than just one. Call Mrs. May at 375-3333 for adoption information.

The summer vacation Bible School celebrated its most successful year to date through the cooperative efforts of the CV Community Chapel, St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church and the First Baptist.

The theme this year was "Explore God's Hidden Wonders ... Wonders of God's World and God's Word." The final day parents were invited to view a display of the crafts made during the two-week session and a program with each class demonstrating something of what they had learned from the films and lessons.

Lucky Market opens in Del Monte Center

Lucky Stores is opening its newest store Wednesday in the new Del Monte Shopping Center in Monterey.

The new supermarket contains 20,188 square feet of floor space with 13,130 square feet devoted to sales area.

Featured are the latest types of self-service, 350 lineal feet of easy-to-reach-into refrigerated cabinets for freshly-cut, cellophane wrapped meats, fruits and vegetables, delicatessen items, dairy products, ice cream and frozen foods. Other departments include grocery, housewares, drug sundries and an extensive wine, beer and liquor section.

The new Del Monte Shopping Center store brings to the Monterey Peninsula the discount

HARRY ALEXANDER
New Lucky Store manager

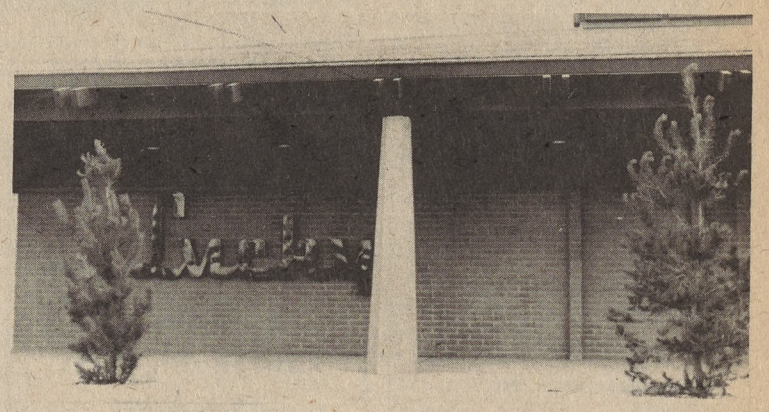
pricing policy of Lucky Stores, which use the slogan: "We discount everything except courtsey, quality and service."

"The substantial price reductions are possible because of the shorter store hours, streamlining of store operations and elimination of trading stamps and other merchandising gimmicks which add to the cost of food," according to a Lucky spokesman.

The policy continued: "This discount policy maintains that low everyday prices will be in effect 365 days a year, and a customer need not rely on weekend specials, loss leaders or other bait advertising, but may shop and save any day she chooses."

The new Monterey store is fully air-conditioned and has diffused lighting, wide aisles and a warm, friendly color scheme.

Store hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday.



A NEW SIGN on the Peninsula is "Lucky" whose spacious market opens today in the new Del Monte Shopping Center. The Lucky market is the building immediately on the right of the first entrance road coming down Carmel Hill on Highway 1. Also opened in the big new Center last week were Cinema 70 and Thrifty Drug Store.

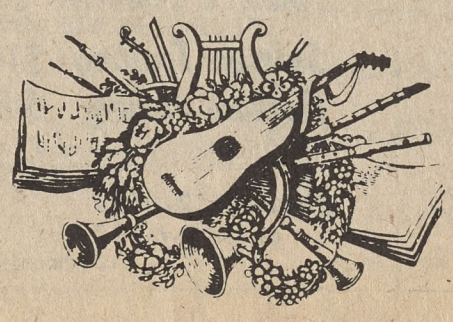
ACH! COMES IT YET AGAIN

THE FESTIVAL OF

HERR JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH



Once again, we say "Zum Wahl!" to Herr Bach. Seven children by his first wife, thirteen by his second. Could YOU sit down and think Creative Thoughts and write Immortal Music with 20 children under foot? And then go calmly off and play the music in the nearest church?

If you're musically inclined, and if you're house-hunting while you are here for the festival, you'll want to see our special collection of great homes to make music in.

On Carmel Point

A traditional English home with a huge living room, lots of mellow paneling for wonderful resonance. Several choice spots for locating your grand piano, all with beautiful views into secluded patios through mullioned windows. In this home, all the gracious background charm which adds so much to the enjoyment of chamber music, and the ocean around the corner for a walk at intermission. Price $98,000.

Down in Carmel Highlands

we have just listed one of the lovely old traditional homes hidden away in a forest setting, with very special ocean views. Ceilings are antique mirror now, but we just learned the home was originally built for a singer, and under the mirror are lofty beam ceilings. Take your choice: either way, this house is for the person who wants to live in the gracious manner. An extra building site with this one, too, at $110,000.

Out in Carmel Valley

An adobe which was built for the purpose of making music in, with its vast living room and all other rooms arranged for easy entertaining to allow the hostess to enjoy her guests and the music, too. Swimming pool for the non-musically inclined, and the delightful guest house would be an inspirational spot for any composer. Built ranch-style, with wide overhangs and outside doors to everything, all around a mammoth white oak tree. Set in probably the loveliest spot in the Valley on nearly three acres of natural beauty and seclusion, with a priceless mountain view. Price $110,000.

Overlooking the Ocean and unique and fascinating Pt. Lobos we have just listed a wonderful home for entertaining on a lavish scale, musical or otherwise. The huge living room, dining room and master bedroom all have the view, and there are three separate suites besides and a whole lower level. (Even Bach could have stashed away all his family in this house and still had a room in which to sequester himself with his music.) Lots of easy-care landscaping interest, too. Price $72,500.

P.S. But If You Don't Make Music and just want a little place to come back to Bach festivals, etc. How is an $18,000 price for a sweet little weekender near town? Hm?

Big California Rodeo, Salinas

Many favorites from the California Rodeo will be back to perform this year when the show opens in Salinas on July 20.

The internationally-famous Buschbom Liberty horses and rodeo clown Wilbur Plaugher from Fresno will be on hand to entertain the spectators Thursday through Sunday at the rodeo grounds. Both Buschbom and Plaugher got their starts in the rodeo business.

Bill Buschbom designed his act a number of years ago especially for the California Rodeo. He went on from there to earn international fame with the Shrine Circus and with Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey shows.

Each rodeo day Wilbur Plaugher ends up in the ring distracting bulls from fallen contestants and wrestling steers along with general clowning. He has earned the respect of the cowboys with his adeptness. He is an integral part of every rodeo and kids and adults alike watch for his appearances.

Plaugher also played a leading role in the Walt Disney film, "Run, Appaloosa, Run," and many of the animals which he had trained appeared in the film and will be on hand to perform in Salinas.

In addition to these two top attractions, thoroughbred races, Appaloosa races, trick riders and various horse classes will be presented on the track.

The highest purses that are offered for any four day rodeo prevail again this year, attracting leading cowboys from the entire nation to work out at bronc riding, steer wrestling and roping.

Tickets are available at the gate. Grand entry time is 1:30, Thursday through Sunday.
